Legendary ACDC NOW in Sesame Oil !

We are pleased to announce the first release of our most popular strain, ACDC, infused in Organically Grown Sesame Oil. This full spectrum infusion offers members a new flavor profile in a very unique oil. A few members have mentioned it feels "stronger" and clinical trials have begun to explore the bioavailability of CBD in Sesame Oil. Lab tests verify this new product contains more CBD per milliliter than our original item #100 ACDC (19.24 mg/ml). As with all cannabis products, different individuals may experience different results.

Item #101 ACDC in Sesame Oil 27:1 CBD:THC - 19.24 mg/ml CBD (<0.3% THC)
$65/oz

Synergy Answers Your Questions

What are terpenes and what do they do? - by Elana

Why are Indica strains often relaxing, and sometimes sedating? Because of their high amounts of the terpene Myrcene, which is also found in high levels in mangoes, basil, hops (the reason 'hops' have mildly sedative properties), cardamon, and lemon grass to name just a few and explains why many Indicas have that tart/fruity/spicy smell...

From Our Members

Synergy Salve: Getting ready for my first banjo lesson, I applied a generous amount of Synergy Salve to my old, arthritic left hand. I was amazed by the result, significantly less swollen and more flexible. LY - Lagunitas, CA

Tumor Improvement: Just wanted to give you an update. My mom had an MRI yesterday and it showed NO new brain tumor growth and in fact has a very small shrinkage.....this was very good news for us!! The doctor was happy and in fact said she does not need to go on chemo right now until we look at the next MRI in 6-8 weeks. She has even gained a few lbs and has her appetite back!

She is now taking 2 full droppers x 3 times per day of CBD and 1 full dropper of THC per day, so she is tolerating it well! We hope to keep increasing the THC.

I think we have found the right combination and we want to thank you for your help and this product! We will be placing a new order soon, so I will call you here to get that going in a week or so.

Again, thank you! SH - Collective Member

Canna Yoga Anyone?

That's right! One of our staff members is also a yoga teacher and has great interest in facilitating a weekend 'Canna Yoga' retreat sometime in the Spring or Summer of 2020. This would be a very relaxing retreat at a beautiful center in Northern California where people can have a guided retreat that brings together Yoga with the therapeutic and spiritual aspects of CBD and/or THC.

Leonard Leinow, the founder of Synergy CBD and the author of 'CBD - A Patient's Guide' will come and do a guest lecture sometime during the retreat weekend.

If this is something that would be of interest to you, whether you are in California or out of state, drop us a line just to let us know you could be interested in such an event so that we can start planning it in earnest.
